Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the

County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company. DIRECTORS: James T. Close. H. W. Thomas. Thomas T. Hill, T. B. Robertson, Dr. R. H. Stabler, R. H. GRAPE CULTURE .- From all accounts, the grape crop in the United States will be an abundant one the present year. It is stated that there are now about 4,000 acres laid out in vineyards in Ohio, half of which are in the immediate vicinity of Cincinnati .--The yield last year is estimated at 350 gallons per acre for the whole State, which is much above the usual average. From a careful estimate of the vintages for the last twelve years, the average yield for the Obio Valley is 200 gallons per acre; on well cul tivated vineyards in favorable positions, 300 gallons, which is about the average product in France and Germany. In Missouri and Illinois the yield did not exceed 200 gallons per acre, owing to the prevailance of rot: and in Tennessee, Georgia and South Carolina, it was very much reduced by a destructive frost in April. The hills of South Carolina and Georgia are rapidly becoming covered with vineyards. One wine grower, Dr. McDonald, has already planted ninety acres with the grape. In regard to the variety, the C-tawba suffers greatly from untimely frosts wherever they occur. Several new species that seem less subject to disease have already been partially tried, and found to yield wine superior in quality to the Catawba, Cape, or Isabella. The Delaware is the best-the Venango, the Herbmont, the Diana, and the Norton's Virginia for red wine, all of very superior quality; and it would seem a matter of wisdom in the planting of new vineyards to introduce several varieties, in about equal proportions, instead of planting exclusively the Catawba, as we have been too much in the habit of doing. In this way there would be a chance of se-

FORBIDDEN FRUIT .- M. Noel, a French agriculturist, speaking of the introduction of the potato into France, says: "This vegetable was viewed by the people with extreme disfavor when first introduced, and many expedients were adopted to induce them to use it, but without success. In vain did Louis XVI. wear its flower in his buttonhole, and in vain were samples of the tubercle distributed among the farmers; they gave them to their pigs, but would not use it themselves. At last, Parmantier, the chemist, who well knew the nutritive properties of the potato, and was most anxious to see it in general use, hit upon the following ingenious plan. He planted a good breadth of potatoes at Sablons, close to Paris, and paid great attention to their cultivation. When the roots were nearly ripe, he put notices around the pages of letter press, with numerous illustrations. field that all persons who stole any of the pota-Just published Malaeska, the Indian Wife of the toes would be prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the laws, and gendarmes were employed to watch the field day and night and arrest all trespassers. No sooner were the new roots thus forbidden, as it were, by authority, than all persons seemed eager to eat them, and in a fortnight, not withstanding the gendarmes, the whole crop was stolen, and without doubt eaten.
